Nestled in the picturesque town of Hartford, this stunning post and beam mountain chalet offers a unique blend of rustic charm and modern convenience, perfectly designed for off-grid living. Situated on approximately 27 acres of meticulously groomed mature hardwood forest, this home provides a serene escape, complete with breathtaking views of the valley to the southeast and the majestic Campbell Hill. With a fully powered 5700-watt solar system, you can enjoy sustainable living without compromising comfort.

Strategically located on the southeast slope of Thompson Hill, the home is sheltered from the prevailing winter winds, making it an ideal retreat year-round. Elevations range from 740 to 860 feet above sea level, offering not only stunning vistas but also a variety of outdoor activities. The property features well-maintained hiking trails that weave through the landscape, perfect for summer hikes or peaceful winter snowshoeing. With direct access to snowmobile trails, outdoor enthusiasts will find endless opportunities for four-season fun.

As you explore the grounds, keep an eye out for the local wildlife—deer and wild turkeys are frequent visitors, adding to the enchanting atmosphere of this mountain haven. Despite its secluded setting, the chalet is conveniently located just 50 minutes from the renowned Sunday River Ski Resort, boasting 135 trails and over 50 miles of skiing bliss. For those needing city amenities, Lewiston, Maine's second-largest city, is only 35 minutes away, while Portland and its international jet port are just an hour and 15 minutes from your doorstep. The city of Boston is less than a three hour drive.

Built in 2004, this meticulously crafted home features hardwood flooring and soaring nine-foot ceilings on the first floor, creating an inviting and airy ambiance. The open floor plan seamlessly integrates living, dining, and kitchen spaces, all designed to capture the magnificent views of the surrounding landscape. Every detail of this home showcases exceptional craftsmanship, from the wooden pegs of the post and beam construction to the elegant brass staircase balusters.

- (2) The collapse or subsidence of land along the shore of a lake or other body of water as a result of erosion or undermining caused by waves or currents of water exceeding anticipated cyclical levels or suddenly caused by an unusually high water level in a natural body of water, accompanied by a severe storm or by an unanticipated force of nature, such as a flash flood or an abnormal tidal surge, or by some similarly unusual and unforeseeable event that results in flooding as described in subparagraph (1), division (a).

REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE RELATIONSHIPS FORM

Right Now You Are A Customer

Are you interested in buying or selling residential real estate in Maine? Before you begin working with a real estate licensee it is important for you to understand that Maine Law provides for different levels of brokerage service to buyers and sellers. You should decide whether you want to be represented in a transaction (as a client) or not (as a customer). To assist you in deciding which option is in your best interest, please review the following information about real estate brokerage relationships:

Maine law requires all real estate brokerage companies and their affiliated licensees ("licensee") to perform certain basic duties when dealing with a buyer or seller. You can expect a real estate licensee you deal with to provide the following customer-level services:

- ✓ To disclose all material defects pertaining to the physical condition of the real estate that are known by the licensee;
- ✓ To treat both the buyer and seller honestly and not knowingly give false information;
- ✓ To account for all money and property received from or on behalf of the buyer or seller; and
- ✓ To comply with all state and federal laws related to real estate brokerage activity.

Until you enter into a written brokerage agreement with the licensee for client-level representation you are considered a "customer" and the licensee is not your agent. As a customer, you should not expect the licensee to promote your best interest, or to keep any information you give to the licensee confidential, including your bargaining position.

You May Become A Client

If you want a licensee to represent you, you will need to enter into a written listing agreement or a written buyer representation agreement. These agreements create a client-agent relationship between you and the licensee. As a client you can expect the licensee to provide the following services, in addition to the basic services required of all licensees listed above:

services required of all licensees listed above:

- ✓ To perform the terms of the written agreement with skill and care;
- ✓ To promote your best interests;
 - For seller clients this means the agent will put the seller's interests first and negotiate the best price and terms for the seller;
 - For buyer clients this means the agent will put the buyer's interests first and negotiate for the best prices and terms for the buyer; and
- ✓ To maintain the confidentiality of specific client information, including bargaining information.

COMPANY POLICY ON CLIENT-LEVEL SERVICES — WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

The real estate brokerage company's policy on client-level services determines which of the three types of agent-client relationships permitted in Maine may be offered to you. The agent-client relationships permitted in Maine are as follows:

- ✓ The company and all of its affiliated licensees represent you as a client (called "single agency");
- ✓ The company appoints, with your written consent, one or more of the affiliated licensees to represent you as an agent(s) (called "appointed agency");
- ✓ The company may offer limited agent level services as a disclosed dual agent.

WHAT IS A DISCLOSED DUAL AGENT?

In certain situations a licensee may act as an agent for and represent both the buyer and the seller in the same transaction. This is called disclosed dual agency. Both the buyer and the seller must consent to this type of representation in writing.

Working with a dual agent is not the same as having your own exclusive agent as a single or appointed agent. For instance, when representing both a buyer and a seller, the dual agent must not disclose to one party any confidential information obtained from the other party.

Remember!

Unless you enter into a written agreement for agency representation, you are a customer—not a client.

THIS IS NOT A CONTRACT

It is important for you to know that this form is not a contract. The licensee's completion of the statement below acknowledges that you have been given the information required by Maine law regarding brokerage relationships so that you may make an informed decision as to the relationship you wish to establish with the licensee/company.
