What truly sets this property apart is its location within one of Maine's largest permanently protected conservation landscapes. Surrounded by the 21,000-acre Niatous and Robbins Lumber Conservation Area that provides critical habitat for loons, bald eagles, moose, deer, and bear. The adjacent Duck Lake Public Land encompasses more than 30,000 acres of forests, lakes, wetlands, and recreational trails, offering endless opportunities for fishing, paddling, hiking, hunting, ATV riding, snowmobiling, xc-skiing, snowshoeing, and wildlife observation. The combined conservation lands in this region, totaling hundreds of thousands of acres of protected wilderness, help ensure that the views and natural character of the region remain intact for generations to come.

More than just a home, this one-of-a-kind full scribe log residence is a work of art, handcrafted by renowned master log home builder John Ninger of The Wooden House Company in Newbury, Vermont. Every white pine log was carefully selected for its length and uniform diameter, then hand-peeled and draw-knifed to create a timeless structure that blends seamlessly with its natural surroundings.

The 32-by-42-foot log home was designed by the current owner for comfortable year-round off-grid living. Modern solar power, generator backup systems, and efficient heating options provide the convenience of contemporary living while maintaining independence from public utilities.

Inside, you'll find two bedrooms, one full bath, and a spectacular 2-sided granite fireplace and hearth constructed from stone sourced directly from the property. The 10-by-30-foot lake room features one side of the granite fireplace that spans the center of the interior wall. Expansive windows on the remaining three sides flood the space with light and frame panoramic views of the lake, surrounding forest, and beautifully landscaped gardens, creating a natural connection to the outdoors.

The warm wood interior, exposed log craftsmanship, and attention to detail throughout create a living space that is both rustic and refined. An 8-by-32-foot covered porch provides the perfect place to enjoy morning coffee, watching birds and other wildlife.

Additional features include a full concrete basement, workshop/garage space, an outdoor shower that is perfect for rinsing off after a swim in the lake, LP gas and wood heating systems, and carefully curated furnishings that convey with the property, making this a turnkey opportunity for the next owner.

Situated on 1.19 surveyed acres with approximately 200 feet of pristine lake frontage, the property enjoys a setting unlike almost any other in Maine. A private dock, excellent swimming area, flower gardens, patio spaces, and thoughtfully constructed nature paths create an inviting waterfront environment with ample privacy for relaxation and recreation.

West Lake is a 1,344-acre cold-water fishery known for its landlocked salmon, brook trout, bass, and white perch. Part of the Passadumkeag River watershed, the lake remains remarkably quiet and undeveloped. Most residential development is limited to a small section of the northern shoreline, while the majority of the shoreline remains undeveloped and protected by surrounding conservation lands. A state-maintained public boat launch on the northwest corner of the lake provides convenient access for boating and fishing.

Despite its secluded setting, the property remains accessible, located approximately one hour from Lincoln, one hour and twenty-five minutes from Bangor, three hours from Portland, and five hours from Boston.

For those seeking a legacy property where exceptional craftsmanship, waterfront living, and Maine's unspoiled wilderness come together, 123 Eagle Point Road represents a rare and irreplaceable opportunity.

PROPERTY LOCATED AT: 123 Eagle Point Rd, T40 MD, MESECTION VI – FLOOD HAZARD

For the purposes of this section, Maine law defines "flood" as follows:

- (1) A general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry areas from: (a) The overflow of inland or tidal waters; or (b) The unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source; or
- (2) The collapse or subsidence of land along the shore of a lake or other body of water as a result of erosion or undermining caused by waves or currents of water exceeding anticipated cyclical levels or suddenly caused by an unusually high water level in a natural body of water, accompanied by a severe storm or by an unanticipated force of nature, such as a flash flood or an abnormal tidal surge, or by some similarly unusual and unforeseeable event that results in flooding as described in subparagraph (1), division (a).

For purposes of this section, Maine law defines "area of special flood hazard" as land in a floodplain having 1% or greater chance of flooding in any given year, as identified in the effective federal flood insurance study and corresponding flood insurance rate maps.

REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE RELATIONSHIPS FORM

Right Now You Are A Customer

Are you interested in buying or selling residential real estate in Maine? Before you begin working with a real estate licensee it is important for you to understand that Maine Law provides for different levels of brokerage service to buyers and sellers. You should decide whether you want to be represented in a transaction (as a client) or not (as a customer). To assist you in deciding which option is in your best interest, please review the following information about real estate brokerage relationships:

Maine law requires all real estate brokerage companies and their affiliated licensees ("licensee") to perform certain basic duties when dealing with a buyer or seller. You can expect a real estate licensee you deal with to provide the following customer-level services:

- ✓ To disclose all material defects pertaining to the physical condition of the real estate that are known by the licensee;
- ✓ To treat both the buyer and seller honestly and not knowingly give false information;
- ✓ To account for all money and property received from or on behalf of the buyer or seller; and
- ✓ To comply with all state and federal laws related to real estate brokerage activity.

Until you enter into a written brokerage agreement with the licensee for client-level representation you are considered a "customer" and the licensee is not your agent. As a customer, you should not expect the licensee to promote your best interest, or to keep any information you give to the licensee confidential, including your bargaining position.

You May Become A Client

If you want a licensee to represent you, you will need to enter into a written listing agreement or a written buyer representation agreement. These agreements create a client-agent relationship between you and the licensee. As a client you can expect the licensee to provide the following services, in addition to the basic services required of all licensees listed above:

- ✓ To perform the terms of the written agreement with skill and care;
- ✓ To promote your best interests;
 - For seller clients this means the agent will put the seller's interests first and negotiate the best price and terms for the seller;
 - For buyer clients this means the agent will put the buyer's interests first and negotiate for the best prices and terms for the buyer; and
- ✓ To maintain the confidentiality of specific client information, including bargaining information.

COMPANY POLICY ON CLIENT-LEVEL SERVICES — WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

The real estate brokerage company's policy on client-level services determines which of the three types of agent-client relationships permitted in Maine may be offered to you. The agent-client relationships permitted in Maine are as follows:

- ✓ The company and all of its affiliated licensees represent you as a client (called "single agency");
- ✓ The company appoints, with your written consent, one or more of the affiliated licensees to represent you as an agent(s) (called "appointed agency");
- ✓ The company may offer limited agent level services as a disclosed dual agent.

WHAT IS A DISCLOSED DUAL AGENT?

In certain situations a licensee may act as an agent for and represent both the buyer and the seller in the same transaction. This is called disclosed dual agency. Both the buyer and the seller must consent to this type of representation in writing.

Working with a dual agent is not the same as having your own exclusive agent as a single or appointed agent. For instance, when representing both a buyer and a seller, the dual agent must not disclose to one party any confidential information obtained from the other party.

Remember!
Unless you enter into a written agreement for agency representation, you are a customer—not a client.

THIS IS NOT A CONTRACT

It is important for you to know that this form is not a contract. The licensee's completion of the statement below acknowledges that you have been given the information required by Maine law regarding brokerage relationships so that you may make an informed decision as to the relationship you wish to establish with the licensee/company.
