If you've been searching for a large parcel of Maine land that offers privacy, recreational opportunities, investment potential, and easy access to services, this 100± acre property off Bunker Hill Road in Maxfield deserves your attention.

Accessed via a deeded right-of-way driveway, this impressive tract of land welcomes you into a beautiful wooded setting where towering trees, abundant wildlife, and the quiet sounds of nature create a true Maine experience. A trail extends through a portion of the property, providing easy access for exploring, hunting, hiking, ATV use, wildlife observation, or future land management activities.

The land features Plaisted loam soils and offers excellent potential as a long-term timber investment while also providing multiple possibilities for recreational use or future development. Power is available at the entrance to the right-of-way driveway, making this an attractive location for those considering building a cabin, seasonal retreat, hunting camp, or year-round residence surrounded by nature.

Outdoor enthusiasts will appreciate the abundance of wildlife found throughout the area. The property shows significant deer activity, and the surrounding woods provide habitat for numerous species commonly found in central Maine. Maxfield is well known for its proximity to ATV and snowmobile trail systems, making it an excellent basecamp for four-season recreation. Hunting, fishing, hiking, trail riding, and wildlife watching opportunities can all be found nearby.

Despite its private setting, the property remains conveniently located. The town of Howland is only about five minutes away, offering gas, convenience stores, takeout dining, and everyday necessities. Lincoln, approximately 25 minutes north, provides larger grocery stores, restaurants, healthcare services, shopping, and additional amenities. For those traveling from farther away, Bangor is roughly 35 minutes south, offering an international airport, major retailers, hospitals, entertainment, and regional services. Boston is approximately 4.5 hours away, making this an accessible getaway location for weekend escapes or extended stays.

With annual property taxes currently under $700 per year, ownership remains affordable while allowing you to enjoy all the benefits of a substantial Maine landholding. Whether you're seeking a recreational retreat, hunting property, timber investment, future homestead location, or simply a place to enjoy the outdoors, this 100± acre parcel offers a rare opportunity to own a sizeable piece of Maine's natural landscape.

SECTION III – FLOOD HAZARD

For the purposes of this section, Maine law defines "flood" as follows:

- (1) A general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry areas from:(a) The overflow of inland or tidal waters; or (b) The unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source; or
- (2) The collapse or subsidence of land along the shore of a lake or other body of water as a result of erosion or undermining caused by waves or currents of water exceeding anticipated cyclical levels or suddenly caused by an unusually high water level in a natural body of water, accompanied by a severe storm or by an unanticipated force of nature, such as a flash flood or an abnormal tidal surge, or by some similarly unusual and unforeseeable event that results in flooding as described in subparagraph (1), division (a).

For purposes of this section, Maine law defines "area of special flood hazard" as land in a floodplain having 1% or greater chance of flooding in any given year, as identified in the effective federal flood insurance study and corresponding flood insurance rate maps.

REAL ESTATE BROKERAGE RELATIONSHIPS FORM

Right Now You Are A Customer

Are you interested in buying or selling residential real estate in Maine? Before you begin working with a real estate licensee it is important for you to understand that Maine Law provides for different levels of brokerage service to buyers and sellers. You should decide whether you want to be represented in a transaction (as a client) or not (as a customer). To assist you in deciding which option is in your best interest, please review the following information about real estate brokerage relationships:

Maine law requires all real estate brokerage companies and their affiliated licensees ("licensee") to perform certain basic duties when dealing with a buyer or seller. You can expect a real estate licensee you deal with to provide the following customer-level services:

- ✓ To disclose all material defects pertaining to the physical condition of the real estate that are known by the licensee;
- ✓ To treat both the buyer and seller honestly and not knowingly give false information;
- ✓ To account for all money and property received from or on behalf of the buyer or seller; and
- ✓ To comply with all state and federal laws related to real estate brokerage activity.

Until you enter into a written brokerage agreement with the licensee for client-level representation you are considered a "customer" and the licensee is not your agent. As a customer, you should not expect the licensee to promote your best interest, or to keep any information you give to the licensee confidential, including your bargaining position.

You May Become A Client

If you want a licensee to represent you, you will need to enter into a written listing agreement or a written buyer representation agreement. These agreements create a client-agent relationship between you and the licensee. As a client you can expect the licensee to provide the following services, in addition to the basic services required of all licensees listed above:

- ✓ To perform the terms of the written agreement with skill and care;
- ✓ To promote your best interests;
 - For seller clients this means the agent will put the seller's interests first and negotiate the best price and terms for the seller;
 - For buyer clients this means the agent will put the buyer's interests first and negotiate for the best prices and terms for the buyer; and
- ✓ To maintain the confidentiality of specific client information, including bargaining information.

COMPANY POLICY ON CLIENT-LEVEL SERVICES — WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

The real estate brokerage company's policy on client-level services determines which of the three types of agent-client relationships permitted in Maine may be offered to you. The agent-client relationships permitted in Maine are as follows:

- ✓ The company and all of its affiliated licensees represent you as a client (called "single agency");
- ✓ The company appoints, with your written consent, one or more of the affiliated licensees to represent you as an agent(s) (called "appointed agency");
- ✓ The company may offer limited agent level services as a disclosed dual agent.

WHAT IS A DISCLOSED DUAL AGENT?

In certain situations a licensee may act as an agent for and represent both the buyer and the seller in the same transaction. This is called disclosed dual agency. Both the buyer and the seller must consent to this type of representation in writing.

Working with a dual agent is not the same as having your own exclusive agent as a single or appointed agent. For instance, when representing both a buyer and a seller, the dual agent must not disclose to one party any confidential information obtained from the other party.

Remember!

Unless you enter into a written agreement for agency representation, you are a customer—not a client.

THIS IS NOT A CONTRACT

It is important for you to know that this form is not a contract. The licensee's completion of the statement below acknowledges that you have been given the information required by Maine law regarding brokerage relationships so that you may make an informed decision as to the relationship you wish to establish with the licensee/company.
